The conveniences afforded by the new and extensive edifice in which the lectures are now delivered, are such as will facilitate very much the imparting of medical instruction. The lecture rooms are admirably arranged, well lighted, and warmed. The museum is increasing daily in importance and interest. The rooms of practical anatomy afford advantages rarely equalled; they will be opened the first week of October. The infirmary is under the immediate direction of the faculty of medicine, and this, with the public dispensary, will continue to present numerous and valuable cases for clinical instruction. Clinical lectures will be delivered at least twice a week, and operations performed before the onveniences afforded by the new and exten-

PHILADELPHIA.

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the travelling public, that they have taken the above house, (formerly known as the Marshall House,) and have made extensive alterations and improvements in its interior, having spared no expense to render it one of the most pleasant and fashionable houses in the city. The parlors are numerous, the chambers large and well arranged, and the furniture entirely new. Its location is in the most central part of the city, near to all the places of public amusement, and convenient to the depots of the Southern, Western, and Northern routes.

The tables will be supplied with all the delicacies of the season. The wines are of the choicest brands, and have been carefully selected.

ELIXER OF CALISAYA BARK.

This preparation is particularly recommended to persons of weak habit, and to such as reside in low situations, where the nervous system is, in genical, more or less relaxed. The addition of certain ingredients has accompletely disguised the taste of the bark, as to render this efficacious remedy, a most palatable cordial; thus peculiarly adapting it to contour the trepusance which most persons experience after taking for some time bitter potions, as it combines the greatest efficacy with a highly agreesable flavor. As a preventive of the ague it has superseded the use of all other remedies, in such parts of the country as it is known. Prepared only by J. Milhau, No. 183 Broadway, New York. DEMOCRATIC REVIEW.

THE price of the Democratic Review has heretofore been too high—not for its size, cost, and character, but for the means of tens of thousands of readers who would be glad to receive it, and among whom it is highly desirable that it should circulate. For the purpose, therefore, of largely widening the range of its usefulness, and of multiplying the numbers of those to whom it may be accessible, it has been determined, simultaneously with the great reduction in the expense of the postage, to reduce its subscription price also, from five to only three dollars; and when several unite in subscription, to as low as $2 50, or even to $2 30 per annum.

This very large reduction in the receipts (accompanied with but a comparatively small diminution of its expenses) involves, of course, an entire sacrifice of profit upon it, unless compensated by a vast the subscription. There will be at the variety of the content of the subscription of the subscription price also, from the third Monday of October, annually. Students are advised to join at those times, if convenient; but they are permitted to join at any other times.

For further information, reference can be had to the catalogue of Yale college, or the circular of this department. A copy of the circular will be forwarded to any person who may request it by letter, warded to any person who may request it by letter, warded to any person who may request it by letter, warded to any person who may request it by letter, warded to any person who may request it by letter, warded to any person who may request it by letter, warded to any person who may request the content of this observable.

multiplication of its subscribers. There will be at the outset only a small reduction in its number of pages; soon to be restored to its old number, with-out increase of price, when the anticipated success of the experiment shall justify it.

The portraits of distinguished democrats will be continued, engraved in better and more costly style

The postage will hereafter, for any distance, be only free and a half cents; it has herestofore been, for over 100 miles, eighten cents.

We look for an extension of circulation to be reckoned by tens of thousands, as the result and compensation of this great reduction of price. Every friend of the work, and of the democratic principles and cause, is confidently appealed to, to exert himself with an active interest to procure it subscribers; both to extend its usefulness, and to carry it successfully through the crisis of this great reduction of its receipts.

Four copies,....$1 00 | Thirteen copies,...$20 it will thus be seen, that when thirteen copies are ordered at once, the price is brought down to about $2 30 each. For six months, half these rates.

These rates afford high inducements to agents and others to interest themselves to procure subscribers.

There are two courses of instruction and study in the school—one called the professional course, and the other called the general course. The object of the professional course is to give a thorough legal education to those gentlemen who propose to enter the profession of law. The design of the general course is, more particularly, to communicate appropriate information to those who wish to attend to jurisprudence as a branch of liberal knowledge. A course, with special reference to mercantile law, is introduced as often as any class requests it.

The terms of the professional course for tuition, with constant use of text-books, and ordinary use of the library, are as follows, payable in advance, unless for satisfactory reasons: For the whole course of two years, one hundred and fifty dollars. For one year, eighty dollars. For less than one year, ten dollars a month. For more than one year, and less than two years, seven dollars a month after the first year.

limited number of young ladies in the several branches of a thorough English and French education.

The English department will be conducted by a lady who was formerly a teacher in the Albany Female Academy, and has been for several years teaching in the family of Mrs Elisson.

Great pains will be taken to teach well the principles of science, the application of which will require diligent study on the part of the pupil; and in order to accomplish fully this important object, teachers of the highest qualifications will be provided for each department. The French teacher will reside in the family, and the pupils will be taught to speak accurately, as well as to read and write the French language.

To those young ladies whose parents desire it, a course of instruction will be given in Latin, as the foundation of modern languages.

The government will be parental, and conducted on Christian principles. Alexandria is admirably located for an institution of this kind, being retired and healthy, combining the advantages of town and country. Members of Congress who have daughters to educate, will find this institution convenient for that purpose, as steamboats ply hourly between Alexandria and Washington city.

The scholastic year will be divided into two sessions, of twenty-two weeks each, commencing on the 8th of September, and the 8th of February.

Mr. Thomas W. Tobey—a gentleman who is amply qualified, having passed through a collegiate course, and been engaged for several years in the business of instructive—will have charge of the school. His whole time and energies will be devoted to its interests; and it is hoped it will thus be rendered worthy of extensive patronage.

This school will be under the constant superintendence of the faculty of the college.
